Dear Mr Williamson,

Jocelyn Brooke 1908-66

I am writing a biography of Jocelyn Brooke and would like to ask your help.

From somewhere (and I can't recall exactly where I discovered this) I have a note from an article or letter of yours in the Kentish Gazette for 21/7/67, in which I believe you said: 'Philip Toynbee wrote a short time ago that he [i.e. Brooke] was one of the most underrated writers of this century'.

I would be extremely grateful if you could let me know where Toynbee said this: would it have been in the Observer ?

With many thanks for your help,

Yours sincerely,

Jonathan Hunt
