BEKESBOURNE (or Beakesbourne) is a small parish on the Little Stour, with a station on the South Eastern and Chatham railway, 3 miles east-south-east from Canterbury and 59 from London by road and 64½ by railway, in the Canterbury division of the county, lahe of St. Augustine, Bridge hundred and union, petty sessional division and county court district of Canterbury, rural deanery of East Bridge, and archdeaconry and diocese of Canterbury, and is also partly in the city and county of the city of Canterbury. This parish is a member of the Cinque port of Hastings and was formerly a borough. The church of St. Peter is in the Norman, Early English and later styles, and has a tower containing 5 bells, the gift of Miss Gipps, late of Howlets; in the church are memorials to the families of Palmer, Hales, Fagge, Eden and Gardner and various memorial windows; the church was restored in 1822-3, and has 150 sittings. The register dates from the year 1553. The living is a vicarage, net income £230, with residence, in the gift of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and held since 1913 by the Rev. Richard Bevan Pyppe M.A. of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge. In this parish is the Sanatorium of the Bridge Rural District Council. The Old Palace, an ancient house, was formerly a country residence of the Archbishops of Canterbury. The Ecclesiastical Commissioners, the Marquess Conyngham and G. F. Dalton esq. are the principal landowners. The soil is gravel and chalk; subsoil, chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and hops. The area is 1,009 acres; rateable value, £2,261; the population in 1911 was 348 in the civil parish and 361 in the ecclesiastical parish. Parish Clerk, Henry Russ.

BELVEDERE (or Lessness Heath) and Abbey Wood is an ecclesiastical parish, formed in 1861 from the civil parish of Erith; it has a station on the North Kent section of the South Eastern and Chatham railway, and is 1 mile west from Erith, 4 north-west from Dartford, and 12 from London, and in the Dartford division of the county, Lessness hundred, lathe of Sutton-at-Home, petty sessional division, union and county court district of Dartford, rural deanery of Dartford and archdeaconry and diocese of Rochester, and within the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan Police. The parish extends to the banks of the Thames, and is lighted by electricity by the Erith Urban Council, and supplied with water by the Metropolitan Water Board, Kent District. All Saints' church, Erith road, is of cut flints with stone dressings, in the Early English style, and has a western tower with spire containing a clock and one bell; there are four stained windows; the church will seat 300 persons, 280 sittings being free. The register dates from the year 1861. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £275, with residence, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1906 by the Rev. William Richard Hartwright L.Th. of Hatfield Hall, Durham. St. Augustine's church, in St. Augustine's road, has an organ formerly in Lambeth Palace chapel; there are 500 sittings. Here is a Congregational chapel, in Picardy road, erected in 1897 to seat 300. There are also two Baptist chapels, one in Bexley road, built in 1863, seating 350, and another in Upper Abbey road, erected in 1899, with 220 sittings, and a Strict Baptist chapel; there is also a Primitive Methodist chapel. The Salvation Army also have a hall here. The County Technical Institute and Secondary School, in Erith road, erected at a cost of £11,000 on land given for the purpose by the West Kent Land Development Co. was opened in March, 1907. The Erith Urban District Sanatorium for Infectious Diseases, at Little Heath, was erected in 1895 at a cost of £2,115, and extended in 1909-1910; total outlay, £5,422; there are 40 beds; two additional wards are now (1915) in course of construction, at an estimated cost of £2,000. The Royal Alfred Aged Merchant Seamen's Institution, in Belvedere park, Upper Park road, founded in 1855, and opened January, 1857, is pleasantly situated in 24 acres of ground, commanding a view of the river; it serves as a home for indigent merchant seamen, of not less than 65 years of age, and is available for 500 inmates; there are now about 100 who are fed and clothed, and also about 540 out-pensioners, each of whom receives £12 yearly; Captain John Dowdy, house-governor. In Belvedere Park is a masonic lodge.

The population of the ecclesiastical parish in 1901 was 2,226, and in 1911, 2,222.

ABBEY WOOD lies to the west and has a station on the North Kent (South Eastern and Chatham) railway, near it is Bostall Heath, a tract 155 acres in extent, situated on the table land which bounds the Thames marshes below Plumstead and commanding a pleasant prospect; it is under the control of the London County Council as an open place. St. Mary's iron mission church, erected in 1872 at a cost of £150, will seat 200 persons. Here is also a Salvation Army hall

BISHOPSBOURNE is a parish on a feeder of the Stour, on the entrance of the Barham Downs, and about half a mile from the Dover road, with a station on the Elham Valley line of the South Eastern and Chatham railway, and 2½ miles south from Bekesbourne station on the Chatham and Dover section of that railway, and 4 miles south-east from Canterbury, in the Canterbury division of the county, lathe of St. Augustine, Kinghamford hundred, petty sessional division of Wingham, Bridge union, Canterbury county court district, rural deanery of East Bridge, and archdeaconry and diocese of Canterbury. The Nailbourne, a feeder of the Stour, which runs through the parish, rising in the hills above Folkestone, has been an intermittent stream, flowing for a few months periodically about every five to seven years, but from 1911 it has been flowing regularly.

The church of St. Mary is of flint, in the Early English and later styles, and has a tower containing 4 bells: there is some stained glass, and in the chancel a mural monument with bust, erected in 1632 by Sir W. Cooper kt. to Richard Hooker M.A. (commonly known as "the learned and judicious Hooker"), author of the celebrated "Ecclesiastical Polity," and some time fellow of Corpus Christi College, Oxford; he was rector of Bishopsbourne from 1595 till his death, Nov. 2nd, 1600: in 1890 a memorial window to Hooker was erected, and a lych gate was erected to his memory in 1911: the church was repaired and re-seated in 1872, at a cost of £1,600: there are 215 sittings. The register of baptisms and marriages dates from 1558; burials from 1571. The living is a rectory, yearly value £331, with residence, in the gift of the Archbishop

In the rectory garden there is a remarkable yew hedge, said by some to have been planted by Hooker. Bourne Park, the property of Lt.-Col. Matthew Gerald Edward Bell, who is lord of the manor, is occupied by Walter Turner Toynbee esq. Charlton Place, the seat and property of Major John Cecil de Veil Tattersall, is half a mile south-east, and contains a very fine saloon which was built for George IV. Lt.-Col. M. G. E. Bell, the Marquess Conyngham and Major J. C. De V. Tattersall are the principal landowners. In Gorsley Wood, on the property of the Marquess Conyngham, are three tumuli, opened in Feb. 1882, and found to contain stone chests

BRIDGE is a parish and head of a union, giving its name to a rural deanery; it derives its name from its situation in a valley on the Roman and modern road to Dover, at a bridge over a feeder of the Stour, with a station on the Canterbury and Folkestone line of the South Eastern and Chatham railway, and is 1½ miles south from Bekesbourne station on the same system, and 2½ south-east from Canterbury, in the Canterbury division of the county, lathe of St. Augustine, hundred of Bridge and Petham, petty sessional division of St. Augustine's, Canterbury, Canterbury county court district, rural deanery of East Bridge and archdeaconry and diocese of Canterbury. The village is lighted with gas by a local limited company. The church of St. Peter is of flint, in the Norman style, with some additions of the Early English period, and has a tower with spire, containing a clock and 4 bells: the windows are stained; within a recess is a recumbent effigy of a man in robes, in low relief: the church was repaired and partly rebuilt about 1860, and affords 350 sittings, 80 being free. The register dates from the year 1565. The living is a vicarage, annexed to the vicarage of Patribourne, joint net yearly value £320, with 33 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of the Marquess Conyngham, and held since 1807 by the Rev. Hubert Knight M.A. of Christ's College, Cambridge, who resides at Patribourne. The Wesleyan chapel, built in 1894, is of corrugated iron and wood, and seats 150 persons. The principal landowners are the Marquess Conyngham, who is lord of the manor, Earl Sondes and Lt.-Col. Matthew Gerald Edward Bell. The soil is chalky; subsoil, chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and hops. The area is 1,171 acres; rateable value, £3,405; the population in 1911 was 823, including 9 officials and 91 inmates in the Bridge Poor Law Institution

BROADSTAIRS with ST. PETER'S.

BROADSTAIRS, anciently called "Bradstow," is a pleasant little town and watering place, with a station on the South Eastern and Chatham railway, 2½ miles north from Ramsgate, 77 from London and 3½ south-east from Margate, situated on a small bay on the eastern coast of the Isle of Thanet, and within the civil parish of St. Peter, in the rural deanery of Westbere, and archdeaconry and diocese of Canterbury; it was from 1879 under a Local Board, but is now governed, under the "Local Government Act, 1894" (56 and 57 Vict. c. 75), by a District Council of twelve members. In pursuance of an Order of the County Council, made in 1894, the name of the Urban District was altered to Broadstairs and St. Peter's, and now comprises four wards—Central, Pierremont, Kingsgate and St. Peter's. The modern extension of the town of Broadstairs has a fine promenade on the summit of low cliffs, but in the older part the streets are narrow and tortuous. Both Broadstairs and St. Peter's are lighted with gas and by electricity by a company, and supplied with water from works erected in 1859 and extended in 1876, and again in 1903 and 1907 at a cost of about £60,000, the property of the Urban District Council; the water is obtained from adits in the chalk extending about 1½ miles inland. The ecclesiastical parish was formed out of St. Peter's on Sept. 27, 1850. The parish church of the Holy Trinity, erected in 1340, is of flint with stone facings in the Early English style, and has a tower containing a clock and one bell: the addition of the north and south aisles was completed in 1915: there are 650 sittings. The register of baptisms dates from the year 1850. The living was declared a rectory Dec. 6, 1867, net yearly value £330, with residence, built in 1870, in the gift of the vicar of St. Peter's, and held since 1909 by the Rev. Lewis Lanning Edwards M.A. of Trinity College, Dublin. The Catholic church, St. Peter's Park road, is dedicated to Our Lady Star of the Sea. The Baptist chapel, in High street, founded in 1790, was restored in 1909, and seats 250 persons. The Baptist chapel, in Queen's road, built in 1908 at a cost of £2,000, is an edifice of brick with stone dressings, in the Gothic style, from designs by Mr. E. E. Moody, architect: it includes a clock tower, and will seat about 450 persons: the old chapel alongside, built in 1807, is now used as a Sunday school. There is also a Congregational chapel, erected in 1876, with 350 sittings; a Wesleyan Methodist chapel and a preaching room belonging to the Brethren. Bleak House, standing in a prominent position on the cliff, is stated to be associated with the novel, "Bleak House," of the late Charles Dickens. There is a bathing establishment and libraries, as well as marine villas and many lodging houses, and several good hotels, including the "Grand" and the "Royal Albion." York gate, an ancient arch of flint-work, once forming part of the defences of the place, was built by George Cullmer about 1540, and repaired in 1795 by Sir John Henniker bart.; the portcullis and gates have disappeared; near it are the remains of a chapel dedicated to Our Lady of Bradstow and once containing an image held in great veneration by mariners, who were wont to salute it in passing by lowering their sails. The area of the Urban District is 3,030 acres; rateable value £76,622, and population in 1911, 9,917. The population of Holy Trinity ecclesiastical parish in 1911 was 4,779.

Parish Clerk, William Harman, Tunis row.
