BRIDGE, so named from its situation in a valley on the Dover road at a bridge over a feeder of the Stour, is a parish in the rural district of Bridge-Blean, and is 1½ miles south from Bekebourne railway station and 3 south-east from Canterbury, in the Canterbury division of the county, lathe of St.
Augustine, hundred of Bridge and Petham, petty sessional division of St. Augustine's, Canterbury, county court district of Canterbury, rural deanery of East Bridge and archdeaconry and diocese of Canterbury. The church of St.
Peter is a modern building in the Gothic style, with some remains of the original Norman church, and has a tower with spire, containing a clock and 3 bells: the windows are stained: within a recess is a recumbent effigy of a man in robes, in full relief: the church was repaired and partly rebuilt about 1860, and affords 350 sittings. The register dates from the year 1565. The living is a vicarage, annexed to the vicarage of Patribourne, with residence, in the gift of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and has been held since 1952 by the Rev. Geoffrey Arth.

Church M.A. of Clare College, Cambridge. In 1920 a cross was erected in the north-east of the churchyard in memory of 13 men of the parish who fell in the Great War, 1914-18; the names of two men who fell in the Second World War have been added. The Methodist church, built in 1894, is of corrugated iron and wood, and seats 150 persons. The principal landowner is the Marquess Conyngham, who is lord of the manor. The soil is chalky; subsoil, chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and hops; the area is 1,171 acres; the population in 1951 was 703.

CHARTHAM, with HORTON.

CHARTHAM is a parish and village, near the road from Canterbury to Ashford, on the river Stour, with a railway station $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles south-west from Canterbury, 11 north-east from Ashford, 65 miles from London by rail and 56 by road, in the Canterbury division of the county, lathes of St. Augustine and Scray, hundreds of Felborough and Westgate, rural district of Bridge-Blean and archdeaconry and diocese of Canterbury. The church of St. Mary is of flint, stone and brick, chiefly in the Earl Decorated style, and has a tower of perpendicular date, containing a clock and 6 bells: the chancel windows retain much of the original stained glass, and there are numerous brasses, including one to Sir Robert de Septvans, 1306: in 1921 a brass mural tablet was put up bearing the names of the men of the parish who fell in the Great War 1914-18. A sanctuary lamp was installed in 1950. In 1951 was added an oak case containing a book of remembrance inscribed with the names of those who fell in the second Great War 1939-45: there are 300 sittings. The register dates from the year 1558. The living is a rectory, with the chapelry of Horton annexed, with residence and 15 acres of glebe, in the gift of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and has been held since 1943 by the Rev. Andrew Rollo Gore Browne. There is a Methodist Chapel in Shalmsford street. The Old Tithe Barn was converted into a parish hall by the Rev. F. J. Hazledine (rector 1912-1920). On the village green is a cross, erected in 1920 as a memorial to the men connected with the parish who fell in the Great War, 1914-18. The names of those who fell in the second world war have been added. There are three Methodist churches and a Salvation Army hall. A cemetery of 2 acres was laid out in 1899 and a Burial Board of 11 members formed. There is a paper factory. On Chartham Downs were formerly a considerable number of barrows, now ploughed up, in which at various times have been found human remains, pottery and trinkets, mostly of the Anglo-Saxon period, and on the Swarling Downs are three lines of entrenchments. The St. Augustine's Hospital was erected in 1875 on Chartham Downs and covers with its grounds an area of 300 acres; the buildings will hold 831 men and 882 women. The new admission hospital (Oak House) which was first completed in 1939, has been in use since July, 1951, and provides for 42 men and 42 women. The Ecclesiastical Commissioners are lords of the manor. The soil is light loam; subsoil, chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and hops. The area is 4,570 acres of land and water; the population in 1951 was 3,892.

Shalmsford Street is a considerable hamlet, adjoining Chartham; Chartham Hatch (or Hatch Green), 1 mile north, is also a hamlet.

HORTON, half a mile north-east, contains 399 acres, and is a chapelry, or hamlet, with 14 houses; Denstead is 2 miles north, in Blean Forest, where also is Petty France; Howfield adjoins Milton; Nickle is 1 mile north-west; Mystole, a mile and a half south-west; Underdown, 1 mile south; Thruxted, 1 mile south.

Post, M. O., T. & T. E. D. Office, Ashford rd.—Mrs. Gladys Rex, sub-postmistress. Letters are delivered from Canterbury.

Post & Telephone Call Office, Shalmsford Street.—Charles James Riddell, sub-postmaster. Letters through Canterbury. Chartham is the nearest M. O. & T. acceptance office, a mile distant.
