

BEKESBOURNE FANCY DRESS

All dressed up and nowhere to go. Contestants in the fancy dress competition at Bekesbourne's jubilee celebrations on the Recreation Ground on Tuesday.

Hardly Cowes, but good fun all the same. Contestants in the homemade boat race at Bridge on Tuesday watch the entries cross the starting line.

Young fancy dress contestants showed as much imagination as their elders at Bokesbourne.

And they're off, but which is going to be the winner? Spectators at the Bridge boat race watch progress.

Watching the homemade boat race at Bridge.

here else would you find an Indian squaw rubbing shoulders with a friar but at the fancy dress competition at Bokesbourne?

Interested spectators at the Bokesbourne fancy dress competition.

Over 70 children from Strangers Lane, Canterbury, were given jubilee pens and balloons at their party on Tuesday. It was held in a barn at Cockerling Farm, belonging to Mr R. Ashenden. A street collection paid for flags, decorations and tea, after which the children played games.