

2 TO THE EDITOR

BABY BORN TO BE KING

Crown Prince Abdullah, the baby son of King Hussein of Jordan and Muna al Hussein, is now three weeks old. The Woman's Page was invited to meet the baby prince.

By
WINIFRED CARR

King Hussein had an appointment with his Army the morning we visited the nursery but he stopped for a few minutes to pose with his wife and son, whom he quite obviously thinks is the most wonderful baby in the world.

Princess Muna smiles as her baby slept peacefully photos being photographed.

of Arvill
Charles last night's the Carlton with the new
pic. — See publishing.

BECK

the pillow. His Majesty sleeps just the same way," says the Princess

Savings cup goes in bakery's window

A large silver cup will take a special place in the window of Stevens baker's shop in Coldharbour-lane, Camberwell, this week — because it represents hours of hard work and thousands of pounds in savings.

Stevens have won one of the two cups presented half-yearly in Camberwell to industrial savings groups—and this means the cup is coming back home, because Stevens originally gave it for award.

The cup was presented at the Crown and Greyhound public-house, Dulwich Village, on Monday night, by the chairman of the industrial sub-committee in Camberwell, Mr. George Evan Cook.

Mr. John Windley, of 33, Carden-rd., Peckham, who is secretary of the company, and also group secretary for National Savings at Stevens, accepted the cup on behalf of the firm.

Mr. Cook told the sales representatives of Stevens who were present, Mr. H. Lovell, the savings assistant commissioner, Mr. Joseph Stevens, 80-years-old managing director, and Mr. Bert Stevens, director, that the bakeries had won the cup for an increase in membership and an increase in savings.

Samuel Jones, of Peckham grove, the paper firm, had won theirs for a larger increase in savings and an increase in membership.

He said it was to their credit that since the group was formed in 1940 they had collected nearly £30,000.

The award was made at the Crown and Greyhound because Stevens were holding a sales conference there. Displayed on stands were many of Stevens's products.

Around the room were American posters showing the sales representatives what can be done in the way of tasty snacks and sandwiches.