Two charged in double killing
2A NEWS

The men charged in connection with the murder of a couple were found dead in their seaside beachfront flat.

Joan and John Sirland were killed in Truro, Cornwall, in August 1995. Their bodies were discovered in a pub.

The charged men, aged 39 and 19, were arrested in Nottingham and appeared before Skipton magistrates charged with conspiracy to murder the couple. They remained in custody before appearing before a crown court on April 1. Another man, 37, has been charged with the same offence and will appear before a crown court before leaving the country.

Ponies at risk

... an estimated 100,000 ponies are at risk of being slaughtered for their meat. The ponies are being sold to a company in the Netherlands which is exporting them to a slaughterhouse in the Netherlands.
