Arthur Swan from Bridge who worked as stable lad at Bifrons, probably 1935/36. Had sisters living in Bridge & Patricxbourne

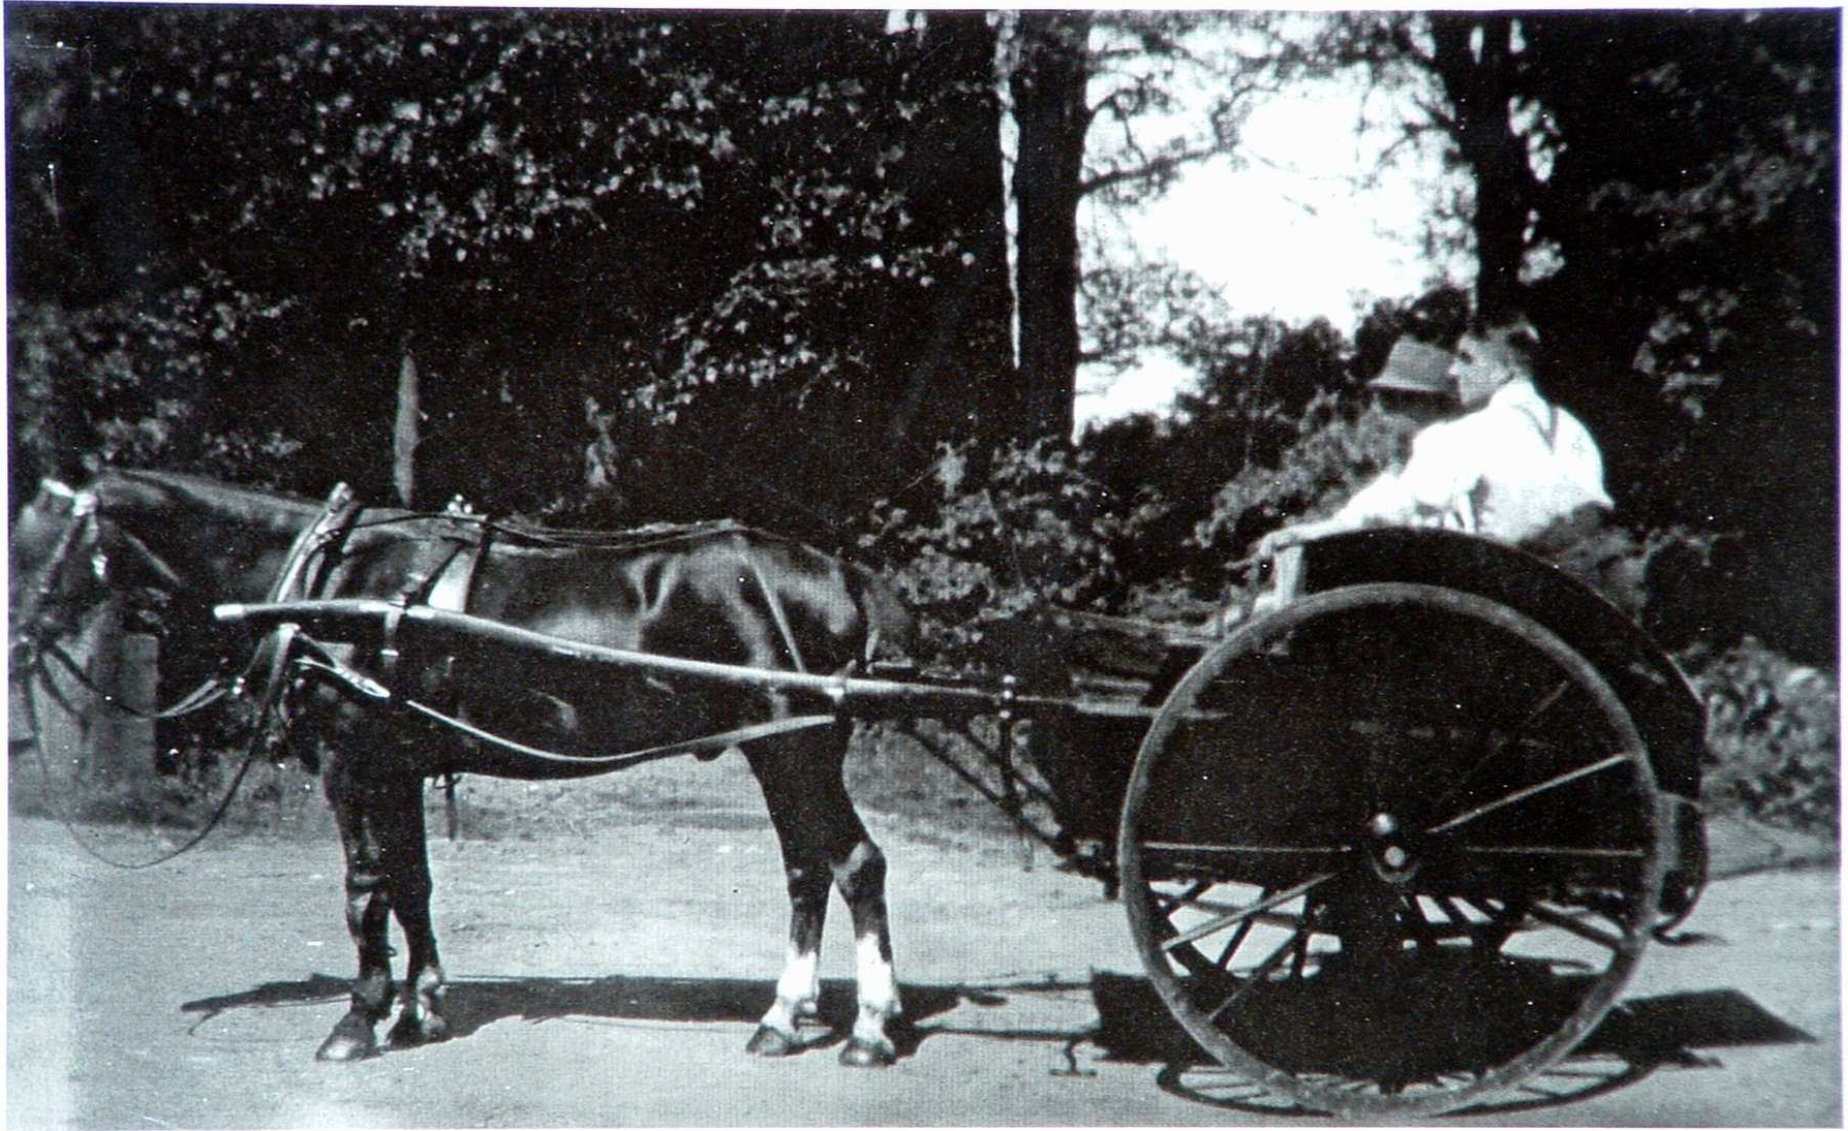

Uncle Bert, farmer at Brickfileds Farm, with a bull formerly owned by Miss RAMSAY East Bridge House, given to Farmer Jones as she couldn't bear to have it slaughtered Note Bridge Place in the back ground.

This PC suggests the Maslin stables were still in business because I think it is Capt. Maslin in the trap with my father and he may have sold the trap to Bifrons. It was used to take the laundry to Bifrons private laundry (which you know well ') The horse was called Sportsman and he was the only one to have nipped me '.

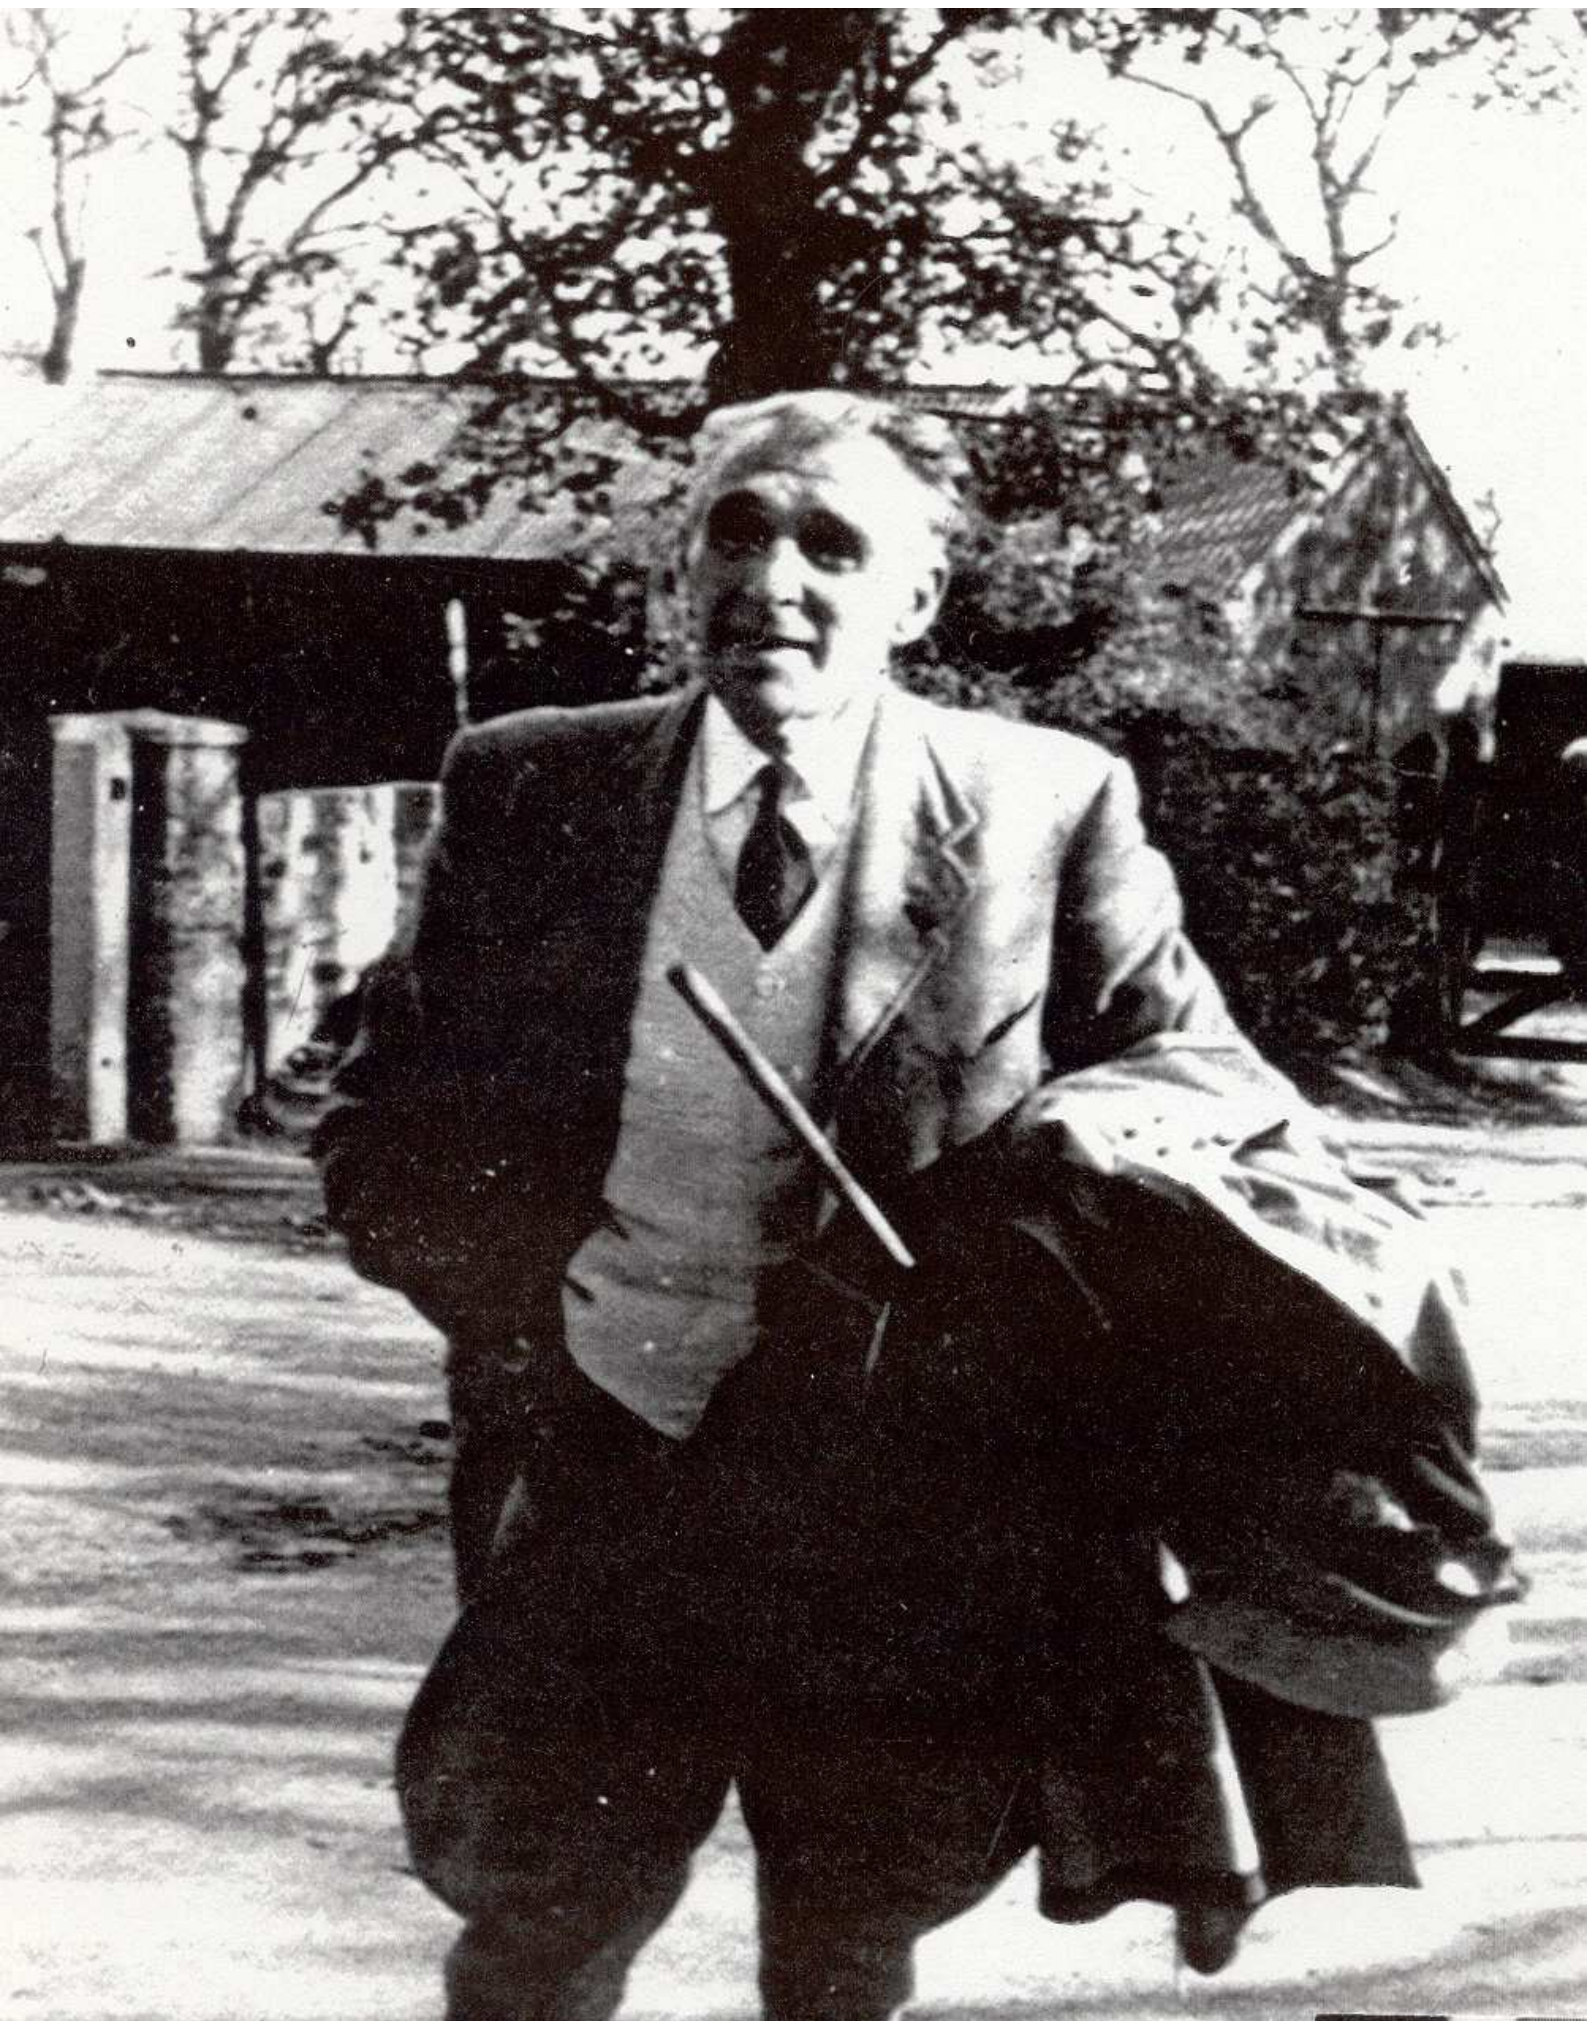

Father leading them off.

I think these show Capt. Maslin & his brother dressed as Lifeguards and Dad as the driver, the occasion may have been the 1935 Jubilee but Dad was not working for the Capt. then, however we had returned to Patixbourne by 1935 and the Maslins may have still been in business

Dad again ' grooming a horse. Gentleman with hands in pocket is either Capt. Maslin or his brother. Building behind him backed on to the river and trout were sometimes caught from a window in the rear !

Another winner for Nailbourne gardeners

Nailbourne Horticultural Society produced an excellent display at its second summer show at the Conrad Hall, Bishopsbourne, on Saturday.

Over 250 entries proved the point that it was worth reforming the society two years ago to allow enthusiasts from Bridge, Bishopsbourne, Kingston, Patixbourne and Bekesbourne to exhibit vegetables, flowers and produce.

Of the many pleased to see the society flourishing again, Mr Roger Austin was one of the most satisfied. He won the Bridge Horticultural Society Challenge Cup for the most points, the cup for the most points from flower exhibits and another for the most points from vegetables.

He took first prize in seven of the 36 classes and was placed in many more.

A tombola and produce stall were added attractions to the many who visited the show. Cups were presented by Major John Prestige.
